To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to express my support for naming the ArtsPark playground after Max Chira's family. He is a Hollywood resident of over 8 decades and moved here when he was only 2.

Max values the City of Hollywood and the opportunities it has provided to him and his family. His longstanding residency has not only shaped his connection to this community but also exemplified his dedication to its enrichment.

He believes in the value of creating opportunities for the next generation and is very committed to enriching the youth of the community. By choosing to contribute in this meaningful way, he's leaving a legacy that will positively impact the lives of countless children and families for years to come. His generosity in naming the playground not only adds a personal touch but also symbolizes his commitment to saving spaces that foster joy, playfulness, and community spirit.

Please contact me if you have any questions or need additional information about the admirable character of Max Chira.

Kindest regards,

Jennifer Homan
