PROPRIETARY AND CONFIDENTIAL

CGI designates certain information contained in our Proposal as confidential and proprietary, and we request that the City protect the designated materials from public disclosure as exempt under the Florida Public Records Act. At a minimum, the designated materials are exempt under Section FS 119.071(f) as CGI trade secrets because they all represent or provide critical information concerning our proprietary CGI Advantage360 software solution. CGI developed the CGI Advantage360 software solution at great cost over four decades of expert technological and finance entrepreneurship. The designated materials are critical to our competitive position in the highly competitive ERP marketplace. As such, we routinely guard the designated materials from public disclosure through disciplined CGI policies and training programs designed to protect CGI intellectual property assets, through confidentiality agreements between CGI and its partners and clients, and through designations of the sort we are making in this section. Public disclosure of the designated items listed below will expose them to our ERP competition, and so will diminish their value to CGI and irreversibly harm our competitive position.
