Affordable Housing Advisory Committee - Questions*

1. The greatest challenge to keeping housing affordable is inflationary pressure on affordability of materials and labor costs.
2. Housing Market Stability.
3. Housing Market Stability.
4. In 2019, another member-shareholder of the cooperative I lived in and I volunteered to spearhead an organized recall by the majority shareholders of three rogue members of the board of directors suspected of engaging in self-dealing acts. In 2020, the members elected me as a director, and the directors in turn elected me as their president. Our board implemented new rules and regulations to prevent future sequestration of the board and removed more than 7 inherited liabilities that amounted to +$1M off the books at a discounted $250K cost to the membership. This was a major win for the members, especially those that were financially distressed after a 3-year period in which HOA fees increased by 400% per year (due special assessments).
5. Housing diversity makes Hollywood more resilient against economic downturns, aids the sustainability of a broader range of businesses, and is an integral factor to the reduction of gas emissions.

Please answer these five questions above. 1. In your opinion what is the greatest challenge to keeping housing affordable in Hollywood? 2. Planning & Development Board - Questions*

As an LGBTQ+, nonreligious, immigrant, business-owner with a masters degree, I am able to represent a great number of minority interests. My family and I own commercial and residential property in Hollywood. Therefore, it is in my best interest that the city flourishes. I have personal experience managing entire refacing and remodeling projects in multiunit residential, single family houses, and commercial properties. Professionally, I've worked in numerous companies and roles, gaining a vast number of skillsets while being part of numerous teams; and leadership roles. Working in startups, I learned how to bootstrap and accomplish great feats by being resourceful. In corporate America, I learned the importance of budgeting, planning, and executing while engaging numerous interdepartmental teams and functions. Given the small relative expansion of federal and state grants for housing subsidies vs. the growth in percentage of individuals living below the poverty line, greater focus on the private sector is integral to ensure Hollywood is able to provide a more robust stabilization without increasing the tax base. This means, higher incentives for private developments and partnering with local businesses to donate materials. I am proud of the City's sidewalk renovations along Lee street, which connects surrounding homes to US-1, enabling pedestrians to engage in commercial activity without the need to use carbon-emitting vehicles; and for children of neighboring homes to walk to South Broward H.S. on Shenandoah. Comprehensive plans are used by cities and urban planners to establish corresponding housing, land use, recreation, transportation, utilities, and other policies
