Education Advisory Committee - Questions*

1. There are an array of challenges in education these days. In many districts, there is an inadequate amount of funding making it impossible to meet the needs of our forever changing population. Each school has disparities in resources preventing educators from meeting each child's needs. There is currently a lack of access to quality education, not just in our district but around the country. Our teachers use outdated materials and often are required to teach extra classes to cover for teacher shortages. And, not to mention, systemic challenges such as socio-economic disparities impact learning opportunities.

2. I would like to see that all schools throughout our city receive the funding needed to effectively teach our forever growing and changing population.

3. The primary role of our city's education advisory committee is to gather and discuss matters related to education. We can then address the concerns with the correct departments so individual voices get heard. I expect to discuss policy recommendations, curriculum development, and community engagement opportunities at each meeting.

4. When the committee meets monthly, it needs to prioritize the concerns with the best interest of the students in mind.

5. The City of Hollywood Education Advisory Board can ensure success by generating community engagement, having transparent communication, collaborating with educators and evaluating their goals based on feedback and outcomes.

Please answer these five questions above. 1. What are the current challenges facing education? 2. What is your vision for education in Hollywood? 3. What do you see as the primary work of the Education Advisory Committee? 4. With only one meeting a month, the Committee is limited in what it can do. How does/should the Committee decide what's most important? 5. How can the Committee know if its mission and goals are being accomplished?
