Hollywood Housing Authority - Questions*

1: In the City of Hollywood, our greatest challenge for Affordable housing is the acquisition cost combined with increased interest rates along with increased fair market rents

2: I am most skilled in Affordable Housing Activism and Property Management

3: I am most passionate about Fair Housing and Housing Market Stability

4: My dedication and passion for volunteerism began during middle school when I was first introduced to Habitat for Humanity. Working side-by-side with like minded volunteers, I was able to experience the life changing blessings families received. From there, I was connected with local food banks where I spent time not only fundraising but assisting volunteer-staff with meal prepping and delivery. This eventually lead me to the Hollywood Jaycees where I spent several years giving back to my local community while learning how to sharpen my skills as a servant leader. From there, I was recruited by previous Chief of Police, Tomas Sanchez to serve as a Board Member for the Hollywood Police Athletic League which services upward of 500 children per week. Currently, I am blessed to serve as the President of Hollywood PAL.

5: In the City of Hollywood, housing diversity plays a crucial role by building a more cohesive community, quality of life, creating resilience to economic downturns, supporting inclusion by attracting people from different backgrounds, incomes, professions and cultures, supports different housing types which supports individuals with varying housing along with supporting the local economy through consumer spending and local businesses.
