To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to offer my full support for the proposal to name the ArtsPark playground after the Chira family, particularly in honor of Max Chira. As a longstanding resident of Hollywood for over eight decades, Max Chira's dedication to our community has been exemplary.

Max's belief in the importance of providing opportunities for the youth of our community is truly commendable. By choosing to dedicate the playground in the ArtsPark to his family, Max is leaving a lasting legacy that will positively impact generations to come. This act of generosity not only reflects his deep-rooted connection to our city but also his desire to create spaces that promote joy, playfulness, and community spirit.

Thank you for considering this proposal, and I look forward to seeing the Chira family's name grace the ArtsPark playground as a testament to Max's enduring legacy.

Kindest regards,

Steven Toth
