Organization's Background: Please provide a concise description of the Applicant Agency, including its history, years of operation, general mission statement, and primary services provided.

The mission of Kids In Distress, Inc. (KID) is the prevention of child abuse, the preservation of the family and the care and treatment of abused children.

KID was founded in 1979 and started as a shelter for abused and neglected children. In the past 46 years we have grown to two campuses in Broward County and we provide foster care recruitment, training and support in Palm Beach County. KID employees enrich the South Florida community through family strengthening, benefits enrollment, foster care recruitment/training/support, kinship support, early childhood education/preschool, aftercare/summer camp, maternal health, a family counseling center, case management and pediatric dental services in partnership with Nova Southeastern University.

In 2019, KID acquired Family Central, Inc. (FCI) which has 8 programs providing comprehensive family strengthening, early learning, a child care food program, and educational training services in South Florida. In 2021 both agencies were nationally accredited by Council on Accreditation (COA) at the highest level possible. By advancing critical care to at-risk children and families in need, KID is the premier provider of child and family services in South Florida and together with FCI, serves more than 20,000 children and families annually.

The proposed program for this grant, KID FIRST (Family Intervention Response Support Team), began over 23 years ago as a planned response to address the challenges with which we were watching our clients struggle. We often served one parent households, low income, with multiple stressors, many related to parenting. KID's infrastructure and experience with this vulnerable population allowed for the implementation of KID FIRST a program aimed at serving the needs of the whole family, in the home, and providing assistance with accessing other needed services in the community. The challenges to this population remain and KID FIRST continues to provide these services which aligns with our mission to preserve and strengthen families whose children are at risk of abuse and neglect.

PROGRAM INFORMATION

1. How does your proposed project address the LETF Category (see above) as well as the Hollywood Police Department's Priority Area?

KID FIRST is essential in creating safer neighborhoods and diverting youth from the criminal justice system through targeted, weekly in-home supportive services for families at risk of abuse or neglect. Our comprehensive approach focuses on strengthening family dynamics and bolstering protective factors among parents, thereby easing household distress and decreasing related risks. Through parent education, supportive counseling, and personalized case management, we actively steer youth and household members away from involvement in the criminal justice system. Many of the families we serve reside in low-income neighborhoods where criminal activity is often present. KID FIRST is committed to addressing delinquent behaviors by providing tailored, hands on support and empowerment to families. By equipping families with educational resources and support networks, we empower them to understand and combat delinquency while promoting positive family dynamics and nurturing environments conducive to youth development. KID FIRST also provides essential client support such as housing, utility, food, and transportation assistance to keep families stable, safe, engaged in services, and connected to their communities. Through our efforts, KID FIRST facilitates the reduction of risky behaviors and cultivates a safer community for all.

2. Why is this funding needed (What community problem does it address)? What data suggests this program should be implemented with this population or in this geographical location?

According to the 2022 report by Fostering Court Improvement on child welfare statistics in Broward County, during the period from October 1, 2021, to September 30, 2022, 11,880 children were the subject of abuse investigations, with 625 being placed into foster care primarily due to neglect (517) (fosteringcourtimprovement.org/fl/County/Broward/). While more recent local data has not yet been published, this sustained trend underscores the ongoing need for early intervention and family-strengthening services in our community.

The KID FIRST program addresses critical gaps in Broward County's support services by specifically targeting at-risk families with documented risk factors, including histories of abuse and neglect, familial conflicts, substance misuse, and juvenile justice involvement. By providing weekly in-home supportive services, KID FIRST equips vulnerable families with essential resources, education, and counseling, thereby reducing immediate risks of abuse and neglect and averting the need for further intervention. Prevention-focused services not only make communities safer but also help improve overall community well-being by reducing the negative impacts of family crises on multiple social systems.

KID FIRST's track record of success during the 2023-2024 Fiscal Year underscores its effectiveness in achieving positive outcomes. With 98% of families meeting program and treatment plan goals, 97% experiencing improvements in family functioning, KID FIRST demonstrates concrete impact in stabilizing households and enhancing familial resilience. Additionally, the remarkable statistic of 99% of families reporting no verified abuse reports 12 months post-referral further underscores the program's effectiveness in preventing maltreatment and promoting child safety. This, in turn, keeps our youth out of trouble and keeps our neighborhoods safer.

During the 2023-2024 Fiscal Year, KID FIRST received 437 referrals and provided services to 1,167 children throughout Broward County. While the Consumer Price Index (CPI) for the Miami-Fort Lauderdale-West Palm Beach area increased by 2.9% over the past 12 months, the cost of living in Broward County continues to escalate, particularly in housing. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, the rent index for the region rose by 4.2% over the same period, indicating that housing costs are outpacing general inflation. In early 2024, the average rent in Broward County reached $2,530, making it one of the most expensive counties in Florida. This upward trend in housing costs places additional financial strain on low-income families, particularly those already struggling to meet basic needs such as food, transportation, and childcare (flhousingdata.shimberg.ufl.edu). In the past 12 months, KID FIRST families, who usually consist of low-income and/or single-parent households, have presented with an unprecedented amount of economic instability especially in the areas of housing/utilities and food. Families who are in danger of losing housing and struggling to stretch TANF (Temporary Assistance for Needy Families) funds to buy groceries and pay bills are less likely to engage in and focus on the services being provided. Our current funding from the Children's Services Council of Broward County provides an average of $200 in Flex Funds per family to provide assistance in these areas and promote engagement, unfortunately it is not enough. The $10,000 awarded by Hollywood LETF would greatly enhance our services by increasing KID FIRST's capacity to assist in providing economic stability for families, engage them in services, and keep them active in our program by having basic needs met. Additionally it would also help fund fees for bus passes and children's extracurricular activities such sports fees, after school programs, and camps that these families could not otherwise afford.

3. Program Summary (3-5 sentences): Provide an overview of program services.

The Kids In Distress Family Intervention Response Support Team (KID FIRST) is a well-established community-based program serving Broward County for over two decades. KID FIRST provides weekly in-home intervention services including an evidenced-based parenting curriculum tailored to at-risk families, prioritizing early support and prevention. Dedicated to family preservation, KID FIRST offers comprehensive support, including teaching life management skills, and providing resources and referrals to strengthen familial bonds and address underlying challenges. By working closely with families identified by child protective services and other community partners, KID FIRST aims to reduce the risk of out-of-home placements and promote the well-being of children in vulnerable situations.

4. Describe the program in detail and how it will be implemented: (Describe Who, What, Where, and When)

Please make sure your response includes program successes or challenges if previously funded, Why the agency needs the funding and its impact on the community. All programs must address a specific population and the narrative should indicate the number of clients served, services provided etc.

KID FIRST successfully provides in-home preservation services to at-risk and vulnerable families in Broward County who come to the attention of the Department of Children and Families, Broward County Schools, Victim Advocates, or other social services agencies. The majority of KID FIRST referrals (85%) are received from Department of Children and Families Child Protective Services. The KID FIRST program can also accept self-referrals from families meeting the eligibility criteria.

Families referred and enrolled in services have documented risk factors that include at least three indicators, including documented history of abuse and neglect, bonding and attachment disruptions, persistent family conflict and/or stress, history of substance misuse, lack of parental understanding of child development norms, severe discipline problems, juvenile justice involvement, low-income, single parent, teen pregnancy, temporarily residing in shelter/inadequate housing, substance exposed infant, traumatic/life crisis affecting child, and/or established developmental conditions that impact family functioning.

Families are assigned to a KID FIRST Family Support Counselor, each of whom carries a maximum caseload of 8-10 families. Family Support Counselors engage families in home visits which last approximately two hours, one to two times per week, depending on the family's needs. The average service duration, which is tailored to each family's circumstances, is three to four months.

Services begin with an assessment to identify family needs, trauma history, risk factors, family dynamics, strengths, and natural supports. This enables Family Support Counselors to complete a comprehensive psychosocial assessment. Within 21 days of initial contact with the family, the family preservation plan is developed in partnership with the family. The plan contains specific strength-based goals that are measurable and family-focused. Services are in the home and include parent training, home-based crisis support, supportive counseling, case management, and ancillary supports. Family Support Counselors are on call 24 hours, 7 days per week for emergencies.

Service duration, which is specific to individual family needs, lasts between 12 and 16 weeks depending on the level of stabilization required by each family. KID Family Support Counselors use a wide range of individualized supportive counseling and evidenced-based parent training that teaches parents positive discipline techniques, anger management, stress management, parent-child bonding, and childhood development. KID family strengthening services address daily living skills, household budgeting, home safety, conflict resolution and communication skills and employment. KID Family Support Counselors link families to community resources and services such as FL ACCESS, SSI, childcare, school supports, domestic violence services, and substance misuse treatment. KID programming responses to household crisis include stabilizing the family, connecting them to required supports based on their diverse needs, and building resiliency to minimize future distress. The goal of services is to stabilize the family through supportive counseling, and assist them to connect with resources to meet their basic needs.

KID FIRST utilizes the Strengthening Families Program (SFP) curriculum, which is a 14-session evidence-based family skills training program. Sessions are conducted to address specific areas of parenting that were identified through the assessment, the observation of the counselor, and the pre-test results of the North Carolina Family Assessment Scale (NCFAS).

The goals of the KID FIRST program include:

- Ensure the protection of the child/children's health and safety while working with the family.
- Assist the parents to improve their relationship with their child/children and to provide better care, nutrition, hygiene, discipline, protection, instruction and supervision.
- Assist and educate parents in household maintenance, budgeting, and purchasing when parents are unable to do so on their own or need temporary relief.
- Assist parents and children to manage and resolve conflicts.
- Assist parents to meet the physical, mental, or emotional needs of their child/children.

- Help parents deal with their own physical, mental, or emotional needs that may interfere with their ability to care for their children and manage their households.
- Help families to identify and gain access to community resources that the family or child/children might be entitled to, and which would assist the family in meeting its needs and the needs of the child/children, including: food, clothing, housing utilities, transportation, appropriate educational opportunities, employment, respite care, and recreational and social activities.

Families are discharged from the program once they have attained safety and stability and made progress according to an established measure the North Carolina Family Assessment Scale (NCFAS). Prior to discharge, all families receive a closing letter that provides recommendations if needed, the services that were provided, and their progress in the program.

KID FIRST serves families with children between birth and 17 years of age living in their homes at the time of enrollment. KID FIRST serves families throughout Broward County and inclusive of all cultural characteristics. KID FIRST is contracted with The Children Services Council of Broward County to serve 360 unduplicated families from October 1, 2025 to September 30, 2026.

The current ethnicity and cultural composition of the population we serve is:

- 61% African American
- 18% Hispanic
- 15% Caucasian
- 4% Haitian
- 1% Multi-Racial
- 1% Other

KID FIRST has demonstrated its success with this population through meeting or exceeded its outcomes for over 23 years.

As noted above, families who are struggling to have basic needs met, are unlikely to engage, or remain engaged in these critical services. The $10,000 in City of Hollywood LETF funding would allow us to enhance our program by providing the children and parents we serve with much needed housing, assistance, food and transportation assistance to maintain economic stability. Funds would also parents to pay for safe activities and care in the community such as sports, camps, and aftercare programs.

5. Describe the Applicant Agency's experience in serving the target population and the capacity of the Applicant Agency to undertake the proposed program.

KID has many community partners and collaborations. We receive funding from and maintain alliances with The Children's Services Council of Broward County, United Way of Broward County, ChildNet, Early Learning Coalition, Broward County Children's Services Administration, Healthy Start Coalition, and Broward Behavioral Health Coalition. Our Kinship program has partnered with Memorial Healthcare System (MHS) and collaborated with Legal Aid Services of Broward County (LAS).

KID shares a strong alliance with the Department of Children and Families Child Protective Investigations Section (DCF CPIS). A KID FIRST Supervisor regularly attends the Broward Victims' Rights Coalition meetings where relationship are maintained with Victim Advocates. KID FIRST is also active with the Broward Aware Committee. These collaborations are essential to the success of family strengthening, preservation, and support services in Broward County.

KID has been providing services to diverse populations in Broward County for over four decades. KID consistently practices individualized, culturally appropriate service provisions addressing clients' cultural background, customs, and needs. KID's cultural competency practices consider several cultural factors, including but not limited to race, ethnicity, national origin, language, spirituality, age, gender, and sexual orientation. In addition, KID considers and prioritizes the culture of family, poverty, and trauma experienced. KID provides cultural diversity, sensitivity, implicit bias, and competency training to all personnel, conducted by experienced trainers. Training covers language barriers, immigration matters, family systems, parenting styles, discipline practices, age-related issues, sexual orientation, and LGBTQ challenges. Training highlights strength-based, family-driven service provision in the context of culture.

KID's staff is representative of the cultural characteristics of its client population. KID's diverse work force speaks English, Spanish, French, Creole, and Portuguese. Translators for additional languages, including American Sign Language, are utilized as needed. KID values the cultural and linguistic capacities of its staff that directly correlate to service accessibility, quality, and success of its client services.

Client engagement is the key to successful outcomes and client retention. KID uses a family-focused approach that emphasizes highly structured, comprehensive family strengthening with behavioral parent training, family skills, and family therapy components. The immediacy of KID's staff response also successfully engages and retains families. Immediate response builds trust and communicates that staff are invested in a family's welfare.

Staff assist families with basic needs, obtaining services and resources, and resolving crises. Consistency, reliability, and realistic family support planning builds commitment. Program services focus on supporting parents and families, supporting parent-child interaction, and child development. Weekly check ins between sessions by Family Support Counselors ensure that there is continuity and retention.
