24. BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROJECT AND RELEVANCE TO THIS CONTRACT (Include scope, size, and cost)

Located in the heart of Miami, this 56-acre brownfield site is the largest redevelopment project in the City of Miami. Kimley-Horn worked with the architectural design team to develop a truly urban mixed-use master plan that can support 1.2 million square feet of commercial development; 4,500 residential units; 15,000 square feet of office space; and parks. The design includes nearly 12,000 linear feet of urban streetscapes, a linear park system, an urban plaza, and a series of vest pocket parks.

Kimley-Horn authored streetscape design guidelines for the project and prepared a Regional Activity Center Justification Report to increase development of regional impact thresholds. We planned and designed all public and private infrastructure including roadways, utilities, FPL and telecommunications duct banks, and traffic signals. The firm provided design, permitting, and construction administration services for the installation of 12,500 linear feet of new 12-inch water distribution mains and 6,500 linear feet of a new 8- to 20-inch sanitary sewer main. Kimley-Horn also provided traffic, landscape architecture, and urban planning services, and designed water and sewer service connections for future parcel developments. In addition, we assisted the developer in establishing the Midtown Miami Community Development District (CDD) and served as the District Engineer.

Awards:

2009 Phoenix Award for Excellence in Brownfield Redevelopment, Region 4, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
First Place — Outstanding Redevelopment Study — 2004

24. BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROJECT AND RELEVANCE TO THIS CONTRACT (Include scope, size, and cost)

Kimley-Horn developed the master plan and provided detailed design and construction phase services for the renovation of this existing 24-acre park in Delray Beach. Miller Park is the City's primary baseball complex and home to year-round baseball schools. This $5.5-million renovation included the construction of three new buildings, four lighted baseball fields, batting cages, public parking, and the City's first Miracle League baseball facility. The park is vital to the City's youth baseball program and, as such, extensive coordination was required to ensure that user needs were addressed. Portions of the park facility lay over an old landfill, which created challenging foundation and grading requirements. The shallow landfill was used for household waste and closed in the early 1970s. Two issues needed to be addressed before FDEP would approve permits for construction. Waste materials beneath the building foundations and utility installations had to be removed and hauled offsite to an approved disposal facility. In addition, a methane mitigation system had to be designed for structures that were present on the site. This included a vapor collection system beneath concession stands and the restroom buildings and methane monitors around building foundations. The park opened in late 2009 and has been operating successfully since then. Total project cost: $5.5 million; firm fee $555,118.

24. BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROJECT AND RELEVANCE TO THIS CONTRACT (Include scope, size, and cost)

The Philips Highway Brownfields site is located in South Jacksonville, one of the fastest growing areas of the city. This site consists of 40 acres and was operated as a landfill from 1955 to 1972. The site was closed in 1976 and remained unused until it was purchased in 1996. Key scope elements included site investigations, contamination assessment, groundwater modeling, remediation design, permitting, and site civil engineering. The contaminants on the site consisted of volatile compounds, phenols, and metals.

After more than 30 years of differential settling on top of the landfill, more than 50% of the site was found to contain wetlands. Kimley-Horn demonstrated to both FDEP and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers that redevelopment and maintenance of the landfill cap would benefit the environment and that mitigation for removal of the secondary wetlands was not required. This allowed for the redevelopment of the entire site.

The redevelopment was conducted under a combined solid waste permit and a Brownfield Site Rehabilitation Agreement (BSRA). This was the first site in the State of Florida where a solid waste permit and a BSRA were implemented concurrently. Kimley-Horn redesigned the landfill cap to support the development of a commercial complex at a later date. We also designed the use of lined stormwater ponds on top of waste, and these were the first such stormwater ponds permitted in the State of Florida. After construction of the new cap and stormwater pond, contaminant concentrations at the Zone of Discharge (ZOD) were reduced significantly.

Total project cost: $2.2 million; firm fee: $215,000.

24. BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROJECT AND RELEVANCE TO THIS CONTRACT (Include scope, size, and cost)

The Walmart Clinton site is located on Philips Highway in south Jacksonville. Kimley-Horn was asked to review Phase I and II documentation for the site and develop an Opinion of Probable Cost (OPC) for development of the site. The review indicated the need for additional Phase II assessment activities consisting of well installation, sampling, pilot tests for screening of waste, and waste characterization. The results of the Phase II activities indicate the presence of more than 60,000 yards of solid waste. Soil contaminants found in association with the debris were PAHs, arsenic, and dieldrin. Groundwater associated with the debris contained ammonia, antimony, and petroleum hydrocarbons. Based on the Phase I and II activities, Kimley-Horn prepared an OPC to remediate the site during construction and development. Walmart used the OPC to negotiate a favorable transaction with the sellers of the property and calculate the return on investment on the proposed development.

Kimley-Horn prepared a remediation approach to address the impacts through excavation and off-site disposal of waste debris, screening of solid waste, on-site placement of residual screen material (RSM), with placement of engineering and intuitional controls. Kimley-Horn prepared a combined document consisting of a site assessment report, remedial action plan (RAP), waste excavation plan, and dewatering plan. The combined document was approved by the Florida Department of Environmental Protection (FDEP) with no comments. The RAP included closure of nine underground storage tanks and the screening of waste prior to off-site disposal. The screening produced contaminated RSM that was used on-site as fill underneath paved parking areas. This approach reduced overall cleanup costs by more than $1,000,000. As a part of the RAP, Kimley-Horn was able to successfully convince FDEP that the C&D waste could be excavated from the site and disposed in a construction and demolition (C&D) landfill. To Kimley-Horn's knowledge, this went beyond the existing FDEP guidance on redevelopment of landfills and was the first time FDEP Northeast District allowed for the excavation of waste on a non-permitted site to be disposed at a licensed C&D facility. Kimley-Horn also used groundwater flow and contaminant transport modeling to show the effect of proposed on-site stormwater ponds on the known groundwater contaminant plume. The modeling was used to convince SJRWMD and FDEP that the ponds would not exacerbate existing groundwater conditions.

The site was placed within the Brownfield program in 2005. FDEP has considered the project a major success and has used the site as an example of how to remediate other un-permitted or illegal dump sites at the request of FDEP. Kimley-Horn conducted an on-site tour and demonstration of our remediation approach for Clay County officials and their consultants at the request of FDEP. Site activities have been ongoing since March of 2005. All remediation activities have been completed and the store was completed in March. Upon completion of site construction, a groundwater monitoring plan shall be put into effect for a period of one to two years.

Firm fee: $250,000.

24. BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROJECT AND RELEVANCE TO THIS CONTRACT (Include scope, size, and cost)

This 20 acre facility was constructed on top of waste that was disposed in a former borrow pit. The presence of the waste was during construction of stormwater exfiltration trenches and after construction of the building foundation had been constructed. Key scope elements included site investigations, contamination assessment, groundwater modeling, remediation design, methane mitigation system design, and monitoring, groundwater monitoring and reporting and permitting. The contaminants on the site consisted of ammonia in groundwater and methane gas.

Kimley-Horn was brought in to this project for site civil design services after geotechnical and environmental due diligence services had been completed by others. Waste was identified during construction of stormwater exfiltration trenches and construction was halted. The waste was from backfilling of a former borrow pit and in some areas was up to 40 feet thick and within the water table. Waste was confirmed over a large portion of the site including the building footprint. Methane was detected beneath the building footprint and up to 20 feet of waste was identified in the area of the exfiltration galleries. Kimley-Horn redesigned the stormwater exfiltration to allow for discharge of water beneath the waste. This was accomplished by lining the trenches on the sides with where waste was present to approximately 5 feet beneath the waste. A groundwater flow and contaminant transport model using MODFLOW and MT3D, was prepared to simulate the effectiveness of the trenches. The lined trenches were approved by Miami-Dade Department of Environmental Resources Management (DERM) with no comments and were constructed. In addition to the above, a methane mitigation system was design and installed underneath the existing building. The system is currently in operation and is under a quarterly monitoring program. The site is also under a groundwater monitoring program. The facility was completed and occupied within the original schedule.

Project costs: $250,000 (design); $7 million (construction)

24. BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROJECT AND RELEVANCE TO THIS CONTRACT (Include scope, size, and cost)

Working intensely with a team of stakeholders, City staff planners, architects, landscape architects, and engineers, Kimley-Horn collaborated with Glatting Jackson in 2002 to develop a transportation and revitalization plan for the City of Hollywood Beach CRA District, an area that wished to retain and enhance its rich and vibrant past to become an attractive mixed-use village, and to make its beach a tourist destination. The study area included the Broadwalk, Surf Road, A1A, and Hollywood Boulevard. The theme for the revitalization area became the friendly, charming beachside village that enjoyed popularity in the '40s, '50s, and '60s.

As a follow up to this initial study, Kimley-Horn was hired to develop design intent drawing for the Broadwalk, much of which has been implemented over the past 10 years. In addition, Kimley-Horn has continued to work on a number of additional studies for the City and CRA, including additional design recommendations for the street network, landscape architectural theme and standards, and is currently coordinating with the City/CRA and State of Florida on modifications to A1A to improve multi-modal mobility and encourage redevelopment.

Through contracts with the City of Hollywood and the Hollywood CRA, Kimley-Horn is preparing a Redesign Concept Study for the Dixie Highway and 21st Avenue corridor throughout Hollywood between Pembroke Road and Sheridan Street. The goal is to create a "transit-ready corridor" along the FEC Railroad by implementing Complete Streets solutions in anticipation of re-establishing passenger rail service through seamless integration of an anticipated Tri-Rail Coastal Link station.

Implementing Complete Streets solutions along Dixie Highway/21st Avenue is important to achieve the vision for improved multimodal mobility and livability along this important north-south corridor. The Complete Streets approach recommended in this study includes a "road diet" lane reduction to repurpose excess automobile capacity for bicyclist, pedestrian, and transit improvements. In addition, the Complete Streets approach will establish a transit-ready corridor for seamless integration of an anticipated Tri-Rail Coastal Link station along the Florida East Coast (FEC) railroad. We have a proven track record with similar projects and with successful projects within the City of Hollywood, including work for the CRA and the Public Works Department. Our experience qualifies us like no other firm and offers you the following benefits:

- An established relationship with the City and the CRA
- Knowledge of the regulatory processes and regulators
- A successful track record of completed redevelopment of contaminated properties, including landfills
- Experience in developing consensus and obtaining support from stakeholders
- Knowledge of the community
- Experience in obtaining and maximizing benefits related to Brownfield redevelopment
- Relationships with developers and end users to facilitate redevelopment of the property

We know the Brownfield and landfill redevelopment processes from beginning to end. Because of our extensive planning, site civil design, and permitting experience, we are able to integrate these services into a turnkey approach to Brownfield redevelopment in your community. Our knowledge of the Brownfield Process will provide a solid foundation upon which to base the redevelopment of the site. Everything we do is focused on an end use—not just the completion of an environmental report.

Responsive and Accessible Contacts. Kimley-Horn strives to deliver technical excellence and timely service with practical, financially beneficial solutions. Our team is responsive and readily available, and we are committed to examining ways to reduce the City's costs. We will work closely with you to define your specific needs while implementing sound engineering and environmental solutions. Kimley-Horn's Miami office will provide project management. Brenda Westhorp, P.E., Kimley-Horn's project manager, is your trusted advisor for this project. She will be your primary contact and is personally responsible and committed to the success of your project.

Highly Qualified Project Manager. Brenda has close to three decades of experience in managing and designing environmental engineering projects in Florida, California, and Hawaii. Her expertise is in solid waste management and includes planning, permitting, design, and construction of a wide variety of projects, including redevelopment on former landfills. She is currently the Principal-in-Charge for a $4.9 million design services contract for the South Dade Landfill in Miami-Dade County. She has successfully closed a number of solid waste facilities, including a one-square mile Superfund site in Miami-Dade County. She has expertise in developing closure documents, including long-term care plans and is knowledgeable of the applicable rules and regulations for closed landfills.

Strategic Partners. In addition to Kimley-Horn's in-house experts, our team for this project includes four subconsultant partners. These firms include Gibbs Land Surveyors for site surveying, Geosyntec Consultants for geotechnical services, Pace Analytical will serve as our testing lab, and Earth Tech Drilling will provide environmental drilling. The members of this team have successfully worked together on numerous projects, including, but not limited to, the Biscayne Commons Brownfield Development and the South Dade Landfill Cell 3 Closure.

Award-Winning Brownfields Program Experience. Kimley-Horn has worked on over 30 Brownfields projects within the state of Florida program. We know the program and, because we have successfully provided comprehensive services so many times, we know the regulators. Our services have included Brownfields assessment, remediation design, public outreach, programmatic support, and urban redevelopment. Kimley-Horn's Brownfields projects in Florida and EPA Region 4 have won awards from both state and national organizations and have been used by FDEP as examples of how to address, clean up, and redevelop a contaminated property. In fact, our Midtown Miami project received the 2009 Phoenix Award for EPA Region 4. Phoenix Awards are given on an annual basis to those Brownfields projects that, from a national perspective, provide the greatest benefit to the community and are considered the "best of the best." Midtown Miami is only the third Phoenix Award recipient in the state of Florida, and it is an outstanding example Kimley-Horn's ability to integrate its full range of services on a Brownfield redevelopment project. You can learn more about Midtown Miami in Section 6 of this submittal.

Agency Coordination and Funding. Our experience with similar projects has built strong relationships with the agencies that will be working with the City. We routinely work with FDEP and the EPA on similar projects and understand the regulatory and reporting guidelines for Brownfields funding and reporting, tax credit opportunities, and approvals. Our team has also worked with the EPA in securing and administering grants and low interest loans for the cleanup of Brownfields properties in Florida. Our relationships with these agencies will facilitate Brownfield redevelopment of the site. Kimley-Horn has generated more than $700 million in capital investment for the redevelopment of Brownfield sites in the state of Florida alone. Our ability to assist clients with funding issues is unchallenged. In fact, Kimley-Horn has secured more than $6 million in Brownfield tax credits and grant funding for our clients. We know what it takes to successfully win and implement EPA assessment grants, as well as securing additional EPA funding as we have done on other projects in Florida. We also are well connected with developers and end users for the site. Our extensive network of land development clients allows us to identify potential users and facilitate development of the property.

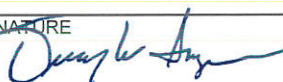

Urban Redevelopment. Throughout the successful implementation of redevelopment, our number one priority is to protect human health and the environment. We are also eager to assist the City of Hollywood in promoting sustainable redevelopment through the use of green building and green space designs. With Kimley-Horn, you have access to highly successful redevelopment and reuse experts whose core disciplines and expertise encompass integrated engineering, planning, and environmental services. Our keen insight into the requirements for a successful project from acquisition to final development can help you reach your goals. We will partner with you to provide a creative, comprehensive approach to development that works with the natural environment, enhances local and regional economies, and results in a healthy, viable community for the next generation of residents and visitors.

Cost Effective. Kimley-Horn has a long history of providing reuse planning while weighing the impacts of redevelopment with environmental challenges. Our Brownfields redevelopment approach is based on the simple principle of form follows finance—a project that is never implemented cannot make an impact. Our successful completion of many Brownfields projects provides us with the knowledge of what information is required, and how to cost-effectively collect that information. Through the use of our field screening tools, site assessment approaches, and expedited site assessment activities, we can reduce overall assessment costs and time, maximizing the redevelopment of your property.

Summary. With the selection of Kimley-Horn, the City of Hollywood is accessing not just a civil and environmental engineering firm, but rather a turnkey Brownfields redevelopment team who can provide access to the many disciplines required to attain the long-term vision of community redevelopment and environmental justice. We are eager to assist you in the implementation of this project, and we sincerely appreciate this opportunity to present our qualifications to you.

Contract Termination/Cancellation/Suspension

Indicate whether the proposing Firm has ever had a contract/agreement relationship terminated/canceled/suspended. If so, what were the reasons, and what was the ultimate outcome?

Kimley-Horn has never had a contract terminated for cause and we do not track terminations for convenience. In addition, Kimley-Horn has never defaulted on a contract and we have never failed to complete any work awarded to us.

Administrative or Judicial Actions

Indicate whether proposing firm has ever filed an administrative or judicial action with any state Agency or state court. If so, what were the grounds/reasons, and what was the ultimate outcome?

From time to time, Kimley-Horn will file a lawsuit against a client for unpaid fees. We do not track these cases.

Litigation History

Kimley-Horn and its subsidiaries have provided services in all fifty states and numerous countries. Because of the many and varied projects we have completed, we are subject to various legal proceedings from time to time and in the ordinary course of business. It is not practical to provide a complete list as part of this proposal. None of the pending matters, if decided against Kimley-Horn, would have a material impact on our financial statements or impair in any way our ability to serve our clients. Generally, these matters are covered by insurance, and we consider them to be without merit. If you would like to discuss our legal matters in more detail, please contact Kimley-Horn's General Counsel, Richard Cook, at 919.677.2058.

General Instructions

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

Future developments. The IRS has created a page on IRS.gov for information about Form W-9, at www.irs.gov/w9. Information about any future developments affecting Form W-9 (such as legislation enacted after we release it) will be posted on that page.

Purpose of Form

A person who is required to file an information return with the IRS must obtain your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) to report, for example, income paid to you, payments made to you in settlement of payment card and third party network transactions, real estate transactions, mortgage interest you paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, or contributions you made to an IRA.

Use Form W-9 only if you are a U.S. person (including a resident alien), to provide your correct TIN to the person requesting it (the requester) and, when applicable, to:

1. Certify that the TIN you are giving is correct (or you are waiting for a number to be issued),
2. Certify that you are not subject to backup withholding, or
3. Claim exemption from backup withholding if you are a U.S. exempt payee. If applicable, you are also certifying that as a U.S. person, your allocable share of any partnership income from a U.S. trade or business is not subject to the withholding tax on foreign partners' share of effectively connected income, and

4. Certify that FATCA code(s) entered on this form (if any) indicating that you are exempt from the FATCA reporting, is correct.

Note. If you are a U.S. person and a requester gives you a form other than Form W-9 to request your TIN, you must use the requester's form if it is substantially similar to this Form W-9.

Definition of a U.S. person. For federal tax purposes, you are considered a U.S. person if you are:

- An individual who is a U.S. citizen or U.S. resident alien,
- A partnership, corporation, company, or association created or organized in the United States or under the laws of the United States,
- An estate (other than a foreign estate), or
- A domestic trust (as defined in Regulations section 301.7701-7).

Special rules for partnerships. Partnerships that conduct a trade or business in the United States are generally required to pay a withholding tax under section 1446 on any foreign partners' share of effectively connected taxable income from such business. Further, in certain cases where a Form W-9 has not been received, the rules under section 1446 require a partnership to presume that a partner is a foreign person, and pay the section 1446 withholding tax. Therefore, if you are a U.S. person that is a partner in a partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States, provide Form W-9 to the partnership to establish your U.S. status and avoid section 1446 withholding on your share of partnership income.
