

Hundreds of Thousands to Millions of Revenue For Your City Each Year

Advertisements are placed on the top of the garbage bin so that only the homeowners can see it. This keeps neighborhoods looking residential and not commercialized. Homeowners have the option to opt out of program if they wish and they can pay the $5 per month fee.

We pay for and install the hardware, get the advertisers, collect the funds, install the ads and maintain them. There would be zero burden on your city staff. We will take care of everything from start to finish. Advertisers signup up for a 1 year period. We offer volume discounts to get advertisers to place ads on as many bins as possible. You always have the right to veto an advertisement or advertiser if you do not feel it is appropriate. We are transparent, and your city will receive a copy of the terms and funds collected from the advertisers.

Why Would Advertisers Want To Advertise on City Garbage Bins?

The average homeowner throws out their trash up to 2 - 3 times a week. That means the advertising message will be seen over 100 times a year per household. According to well known industry statistics, a message needs to be seen at least 7 times before a customer will really look at it or take action.

With other forms of advertisements, the residents can simply choose to discard or ignore. With our form of advertising, it is on top of the garbage lid so they will see it every time the garbage is thrown out because they have to lift the garbage lid in order to throw away their trash.

Homeowners represent a segment of society that have higher incomes and advertisers try hard to reach this group. Advertisers can target particular zip codes within a city or even particular neighborhoods and tailor their messaging to ensure that ads are reaching the desired audience. After their 1 year term is up, they can then select another part of the city to target and move their ads to other garbage containers for the next year term. Using this strategy, even local brands can compete with bigger regional and national brands to reach their target audiences.
