Mixing and Mass Transfer Technologies LLC
formerly know as M2T Technoligies

To Who it may concern,

This letter is to document the Arroyo Process Equipment is the sole supplier of Mixing and Mass Transfer Technologies LLC / Lotepro equipment in The State of Florida.

Arroyo Process Equipment is also the sole provider of all aftermarket service and repairs for

Mixing and Mass Transfer Tech/Lotepro

Mixing and Mass Transfer Tech/Lotepro is the original supplier of both the Lightnin and Philadelphia brand mixers and areators.

Below is a history and brief discription of Mixing and Mass Transfer Tech/Lotepro

Mixing & Mass Transfer Technologies formerly M2T is a US corporation founded in 2001, with headquarters in State College, PA. The company's founder John R. McWhirter Dr. PE is recognized as expert and leader in the mixing, mass transfer, aeration and wastewater treatment fields, with decades of experience in environmental and industrial applications. This experience includes the development of the UNOX wastewater treatment process that currently treats about 50% of US municipal wastewater flow and nearly all of Miami-Dade wastewater.

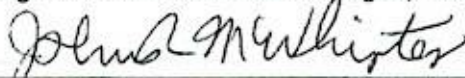

In 2002, acquired the Lotepro Environmental Systems Group. Lotepro was a major supplier of environmental technologies and technical services to municipal and industrial waste treatment plant owners for more than 20 years. Previously part of Linde Union Carbide AG, Lotepro is the most recognized name in the high purity oxygen wastewater treatment marketplace, with more than 100 operating plants in the Western Hemisphere. This acquisition brought with it extensive experience in designing, constructing, commissioning and supporting treatment systems globally.

To clarify:

The Mixing and Mass Transfer Tech/Lotepro and Hanson Brands for all Lotepro systems are proprietary to the Mixing and Mass Transfer/Lotepro namebrand. The designs, Impellers, and gearboxes are manufactured spacificly for our equipment.

No other use is approved or allowed without written permission for Mixing and Mass Transfer Tech/Lotepro

Sincerely yours,
Mixing and Mass Transfer Technologies, LLC
