I want to join the green team because I believe that a healthy community depends on a healthy environment. Furthermore, I believe that a healthy community depends on its citizens being actively engaged in volunteerism and planning. I have not been able to attend any green team meetings, I am unsure when they occur, but I have attended city commission meetings to remain aware of events and progress in the city. I have a Master's of Science in Natural Resource Science and Management and a Bachelor's of Science in Environmental Science and social science. I bring knowledge of natural systems and how society is involved in natural systems. I have been a project manager for climate change work, therefore I bring more scientific knowledge of one of the main threats to south Florida but also organizational and communication skills. I currently work for the USDA Invasive Plant Lab, and work towards controlling invasives in south Florida. I have been involved in Toastmasters and am familiar with running meetings. I am currently a Master Gardener and involved in the Native Plant Society. I am dedicated to regularly attending meetings. I would like to see the committee work on composting for the city, perhaps on a small scale at schools or churches first. I would also like to see more artwork or public investment in green activities, such as sponsoring art made from recycled trash or having school children compete to create the best public service notices about litter and plastic bags. I would also like to see more community awareness, perhaps involve master gardeners to install a pollinator garden in down town Hollywood with information on how to make one in other's yards. I believe increased awareness and involvement in the community will be the key to succeeding in greening Hollywood.

Harvey McKay once said, "Find something you love to do and you'll never have to work a day in your life."

Although, I emphatically agree with his sentiment I would argue that even when working in the field of our dreams there is always an aspect of self-denial and sacrifice required. That is exactly what I am prepared to do if employed by your company.

Education Advisory Committee - Questions*

1. One current challenge is the competition for funding which has pitted public charter and alternative schools against traditional public schools and which has often resulted in the limitation of program offerings in the traditional public schools. Another challenge has been the focus and the emphasis on statewide testing results which often ignore student population factors that could possibly negatively affect test outcomes. I believe that there is more to education than just test score results.

2. My vision for education in Hollywood is that it allows each child to become all that he/she is capable of becoming under the guidance of personnel who are committed to encouraging students to become productive members of society.

3. I believe the primary work of the Education Advisory Committee is to a) advocate for students by supporting innovative programs, b) to provide a venue to which educators, community members, and students can bring perceived educational needs, and c) to find creative ways to work with the community members, educators and students in order to address those needs.

4. Prioritizing issues after discussion and general consensus of the members, the Committee could focus on those issues which it sees as most needing attention. Once priority is established, sub-committees of interested members might form so that members could pursue issues beyond scheduled meeting times. Then, after having met, the subcommittees would report back to the entire Committee for further action.

5. In order to know if the mission and goals of the Committee have been accomplished, prior to the end of the school year the Committee could revisit the issues addressed and evaluate the outcomes that resulted. Soliciting input from those entities who had brought issues to the attention of the Committee would be helpful in evaluating outcomes. Possibly, those issues still needing to be addressed might be "held over" to the following year's calendar.
