Explanation:

The City of Hollywood has an established procurement process to provide and ensure transparency and integrity for City wide purchases of goods and services.

The City of Hollywood is an active member in good standing with the National Institute of Government Purchasing at both regional and national level.

The National Institute of Government Purchasing (NIGP) is the leading national non-profit organization for public sector purchasing professional and provides its members with many services, including education, professional development, networking, research and technical assistance.

In August 2014, the NIGP completed a review of the City's procurement policies, procedures, ordinances, as well as impacting legislation.

The four (4) month review supported the City's procurement policies and procedures as following the American Bar Association (ABA) Model Procurement Code (MPC,) while providing recommend areas for process enhancement.

The City of Hollywood desires to maintain a procurement process, which follows best practices as, recommend by the NIGP.
