Affordable Housing Advisory Committee - Questions*

The greatest challenge to keeping housing affordable in Hollywood is the imbalance between rising housing costs and local incomes. Property values, insurance, taxes, and construction costs have increased rapidly, while wages for many working families have not kept pace. This creates pressure on renters and first-time homebuyers and puts long-term residents at risk of displacement. Additionally, limited housing inventory and zoning constraints make it harder to develop diverse housing options that meet the needs of seniors, young families, and essential workers. #2 I am not SKILLED in any BUT I understand the barriers families face when trying to enter or remain in the housing market I am also comfortable advocating for policies and community solutions that support long-term housing stability. #3/4: I am most passionate about Rental Housing Affordability, Ownership Housing Affordability, and Fair Housing. All of it because I have gone through all of those scenarios. Stable, affordable housing is foundational to family security, educational success, and economic mobility. I strongly believe everyone deserves access to safe housing without discrimination, and that both renters and homeowners need protection and opportunity to thrive in our city. #5 Housing diversity is part of Hollywood's economic health. A mix of housing types and price points allows teachers, service workers, small business owners, seniors, and young professionals to live and work in the same community. This diversity supports local businesses, strengthens neighborhoods, and ensures that Hollywood remains inclusive, resilient, and economically competitive rather than becoming accessible only to a narrow segment of residents.

Please answer these five questions above. 1. In your opinion what is the greatest challenge to keeping housing affordable in Hollywood? 2. Which of the following disciplines are you most skilled? • Home Purchase Education, • Housing Market Employment, • Housing Market Stability, • Affordable Housing Construction, * Affordable Housing Activism. 3. Which of the following disciplines are you most passionate? • Ownership Housing Affordability, • Rental Housing Affordability, • Housing Market Stability, • New Housing Construction, * Fair Housing. 4. What (if any) life experience motivated you toward volunteerism? 5. What role does housing diversity play in Hollywood's economic health?

Parks/Golf/Open Space or Neighborhoods & Resiliency? 4. What is your perspective on city quality of life, healthy neighborhoods, economic development & a strong tax base?

Hispanic Affairs Council*

#1 The greatest challenge facing the Hispanic community in Hollywood is economic pressure combined with unequal access to resources. Many Hispanic residents are hard-working individuals and families who contribute greatly to the city, yet face rising housing costs, limited access to information, and fewer opportunities for upward mobility. Certain areas of Hollywood clearly need investment and improvement, and without advocacy, residents in those neighborhoods risk being left behind. Bridging gaps in housing stability, education, and access to city resources is essential to strengthening the community as a whole. #2 I can dedicate 10–15 hours per month to Hispanic Affairs Council initiatives. I am committed to being actively involved, attending meetings, participating in outreach, and supporting initiatives that directly benefit the community. #3. I believe I have a strong understanding of how housing conditions, affordability, and neighborhood investment impact families because all these affect me too. I am also effective at communicating with community members in a way that is respectful, clear, and culturally informed. #4 I am most passionate about Housing, Education, and Cultural Awareness. Safe, stable housing is the foundation of opportunity, education opens doors for future generations, and cultural awareness ensures that policies and programs truly serve the people they are meant to help. #5 What motivated me toward volunteerism is a growing desire to become more involved in my community and make a meaningful difference. Living in Hollywood, I've developed a strong sense of responsibility toward my neighbors and the future of the city. I want to contribute in a positive way, help strengthen the community, and be part of the solutions that improve quality of life for residents. This desire to give back and help shape a better future for Hollywood is what pushed me to become more active in my city.
