1. How have you prepared yourself to serve on the Historic Preservation Board?

I am the current president of the Hollywood Historical Society. I also own a historic home in the Lakes District/Harrison-Tyler Overlaybuilt in 1925 by Joseph Young Construction and designed by Rubish & Hunter. In 2002, we applied for and received approval for an addition and restoration to our home. In 2003, we received the Residential Historic Restoration Project of the Year award from the City. In 2025, the HHS recognized our home as historic with a plaque.

2. Explain how your personal and/or professional experiences will contribute to the meeting the goal(s) of the Board or City. See above with regard to my personal experiences.as the owner of a historic home and my professional experience as a Board member and president of HHS.

3. What is your perspective on balancing growth of the City's tax base, within the Historic Districts, while maintaining neighborhood stabilization?

Growth should be supported and encouraged, but within the recognized guidelines established by the City for the Historic Districts so as to preserve and maintain the character of these neighborhoods.

4. How would you balance historic architecture with modern architectural styles?

For demolished/vacant properties, modern architectural styles may be acceptable, though applicants should be encouraged to design consistent with the character of the neighborhood, particularly with regard to scale and massing, and incorporation of historic features within the modern design.

5. What do you like about the City's different Historic Districts?

It is wonderful that the City has created historic districts to ensure preservation and the character of neighborhoods for generations to come.

EXPERIENCE

For over thirty years, Dana Gallup has focused his law practice in the area of Labor and Employment Law. Dana represents executive and human resource professionals, as well as small to medium-sized businesses. He has handled cases under Title VII, the Florida Civil Rights Act, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Fair Labor Standards Act, the Family Medical Leave Act, public and private whistleblower acts, and numerous other federal, state and local laws governing the employment relationship. Dana has also litigated and advised with regard to employment agreements, separation agreements and non-compete agreements. He prepares and reviews employment law documents, including employee handbooks, personnel forms and policies; provides human resource advice; audits payroll practices; performs internal investigations of employee complaints; and provides training regarding compliance with employment laws, best practices, progressive discipline, sexual harassment and discrimination.

Dana has provided representation in administrative proceedings before the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, the Florida Commission on Human Relations and related local Fair Employment Practices Agencies. He has also litigated employment cases in both state and federal court, including appeals before the Florida district courts and the eleventh circuit court. Dana has been certified by the Florida Supreme Court as a civil mediator and arbitrator, and has successfully mediated dozens of pre-litigation claims, as well as state and federal court cases.

Dana has been afforded an AV rating, the highest peer review rating available under Martindale Hubbell's Peer Review Rating process. He has also received a Superb (10.0) rating from Avvo and has been designated as a Super Lawyer in Employment Law in 2009, 2010, and 2013 through 2025.
